DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to Application filed 12/17/07.
2. Claims 1 – 33 are still pending.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 – 33 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 – 46 of copending Application No. 10/749686. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims recited in the Application '750044 particularly independent claims 1, 12 and 23 an obvious modification of independent claims 37 recited in Application '749686.

Independent claims in both Applications recite identifying, modifying, byte codes during execution using method invocations to plug-ins employed within a distributed statistical records ("DSR").

Claims 1 – 33 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 – 34 of copending Application No. 10/749617. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims recited in the Application '750044 particularly independent claims 1, 12 and 23 an obvious modification of independent claims recited in Application '749617.

Claims 1 – 33 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims in copending Application No. 10/750067. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims recited in the Application '750044 particularly independent claims 1, 12 and 23 an obvious modification of independent claims recited in Application '750067.

Claims 1 – 33 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims in copending Application No. 10/750050. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims recited in the Application '750044 particularly independent claims 1, 12 and 23 an obvious modification of independent claims recited in Application '750050.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.
